Nominate for the “Paw of Approval” Award

Nominations are now open for the third annual Paw of Approval award, which recognizes work by Pierce County businesses to reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

The award program is a joint effort of Point Defiance Zoo & Aquarium, the Sustainable Tacoma Commission and the Arctic Action Team.

It honors businesses that have made significant strides toward reducing the impact their operations have on Earth’s climate.

The warming of the planet threatens the sea ice on which polar bears do their hunting.

The deadline to apply for the Paw of Approval award is March 23. An application and detailed information on how to apply may be found at www.pdza.org/pawaward.

To receive a Paw of Approval, a business must demonstrate a three-to-five year record of measurable reductions in carbon dioxide, methane, nitrous oxide and/or fluorinated gases.

“This is important, pressing work, and businesses thousands of miles from the Arctic can make a tangible

Combat Tagging/Graffiti

By Angie Lokotz

A common problem for all businesses on Sixth Ave is Tagging or Graffiti. Our Tacoma Police CLO, Darren Skaanes (dskaanes@cityoftacoma.org) offered a plan of attack for businesses who are tagged. Whether you are the owner of the building or the tenant, it is advisable to take care of it as quickly as possible, because it will keep the district cleaner and be a deterrent to taggers. Be advised, that officers are not generally sent out to look at graffiti unless it is a gang-related offense. The goal is to have the offending tags painted over within 48 hours. If the tags are not removed after 18 days, you will be notified by the City to remove it at your expense.

- Take a photo of the tag(s) and send via cell phone to dskaanes@cityoftacoma.org
- Report it to TacomaFIRST 311 (http://www.cityoftacoma.org/cms/one.aspx?objectId=41280)
- Paint over the graffiti.
- Gray Lumber offers a paint matching service. Paint over the graffiti, wrap the brush in a plastic baggie secured with a rubber band, and keep it in the fridge. It will keep indefinitely.
- Goof Off Pro Strength (recommended by Tom at NW Costume, and sold at Gray Lumber) will help remove the graffiti.

There is strength in numbers. If we band together to eliminate the tagging, we will eventually prevail. Taggers will move on.
“The Groundhog’s Shadow on the Ave Knows All”!
SABD Manager’s Report: February 4, 2015

2015 is underway! Big-time! The Seahawk Nation was three feet away from an immortality that would set the entire Northwest apart in enviable wonder! But no!!!! Our hearts were broken again!!! But wait! Win or lose we are bound for infamy. It could have been a record-breaking win but rather it was a monumental loss. We now can overcome what appears to be an historic blunder! While it is true the better team did not win, what is true, is, the team that played the best football did win!

In our city we press forward with how to handle the unregulated marijuana in our midst and how to deal with the discrepancies of 600 to 1000 ft. buffers with Medical and Recreational Marijuana. The obvious question of “If it’s medicine, why is it not sold at Bartels, Walgreens, or Rankos”? Or changing gears, how are we to implement a three-day paid sick leave when there is no budget with which to implement it? Whose streets will go unrepaired? Who will lose a fireman or where will the next fee come from to pay for this unbudgeted new regulation? The Shadow knows!

In the County we ask, “What does the governance center of a County called Pierce have to do with the Ave? For one thing the cost of this proposed County Administrative Building, has suddenly gone up by 40 million dollars without even asking anyone! It is cheaper to take your wallet and walk up to the front door of any Casino and just heave it in the door and walk away! That Dino, is why you should care! If you want to win at gambling, vote! The Shadow Votes!

We have good people on our team this year, and I hope and expect a year of steady improvements on the Ave. I understand that one of the taggers that had been plaguing the Ave has been convinced to leave town. The Shadow helped him find his way!

I attribute much of the success and progress in our district to the leadership of president, Dan Smith. Last year he brought in a full complement of 9 capable board members to address district issues. After this past year we have cool running’s, for the most part, but the gateway pieces still belong to the Shadows! This year the board is at seven, with several people heading committees. As they say in Forks, there is new blood on the Ave: James Tucker, Danno Rankin, returning Ondia Shapiro and a very competent treasurer, Pete Vanrosendael have Art on the Ave rolling splendidly. There are committee heads for the holiday Santa events in Al Switzer and [continued on page 7] difference in the race to save polar bears,” said John Garner, education curator at Point Defiance Zoo & Aquarium.

Interstate Distributor, a Tacoma-based trucking company with worldwide clients, received the 2014 Paw of Approval. The company decreased carbon emissions per mile by more than 7 percent through retrofits and upgrades to trucks during the period from 2010 through 2012.

Two years ago, Unico Properties, LLC, Weyerhaeuser, Tacoma Community College and the Port of Tacoma were honored with the Paw of Approval.

Polar bears are a threatened species, and sea ice is crucial to their existence. It’s the platform from which they hunt the seals that sustain their lives.

Unchecked destruction of their hunting grounds due to climate change could bring about the extinction of these largest of land carnivores.

Point Defiance Zoo & Aquarium long has aided polar bear research and conservation efforts. The zoo parking lots and drives are “idle free” zones, in which motorists are asked to turn their engines off while waiting for someone in order to reduce tailpipe emissions.

“The Paw of Approval award program is another piece of our longstanding commitment in this area,” Garner said. “It rewards local businesses for their efforts and encourages others to curb their greenhouse gas emissions.”

The 2015 Paw of Approval winner will be recognized in the zoo’s ZooPoints publication; named in a news release as a leader in environmental stewardship; invited to exhibit at the zoo’s annual Earth Day event; and treated to a special breakfast with the zoo’s three polar bears, Boris, Blizzard and Glacier.

A nomination form may be accompanied by up to five pages of additional information, including photographs or other material. Self-nominations are encouraged. The form is on the zoo website, www.pdza.org/pawaward.

Nominators will be asked to describe actions taken; provide details on the amount of reduction that has occurred; and explain why the company should be recognized as a community leader in the reduction of greenhouse gas emissions.

Free University Class Offerings

Free University is a community learning organization offering free classes on a variety of subjects to eager learners of all ages. It is an emerging local non-profit organization whose mission is to bring the community closer together through learning.

Who are the teachers? Who are the students?  Community members, people like you and me, come together to teach and learn from each other. Local businesses join in this effort by offering their own spaces as places to hold classes. Some classes have special requirements: whiteboards or wireless, for example. Some need only a small space; some need larger venues. The Winter Schedule is being firmed up right now. Want to learn how to raise rabbits, or appreciate music, crochet a hat, or organize your business launch? Some of our local businesses and even some board members are offering classes. Check it out.

Classes schedule can be found online at http://www.freeunw.com/class-listing/. Class Catalogs will be available at Ubiquitous Journey or online.

For information about this volunteer-run organization, or to offer to teach a class or donate business space, please contact Robyn Liss at Ubiquitous Journey, 2607 6th Ave, Tacoma / 253-572-2550 or visit www.freeunw.com
Emerald Leaves
2702 6th Avenue | Tacoma | 98406
253-507-4591

Hours: Plan to be open from 9 am to Midnight; actual hours will depend on demand

Social Media Presence: Facebook, Twitter (@EmeraldLeaves), Website, Google+, and more in the works

Owners: Duane Dunn & Matt Frett

Grand Opening: February 12

Look for someone famous (to be determined) to be there for the grand opening on February 12.

The building on the corner of Oakes and 6th, that formerly housed ChopStix Piano Bar, has been under renovation for the past few weeks, and will open on Thursday, February 12, as Emerald Leaves, Tacoma’s newest 502 retail marijuana establishment; but not just another marijuana establishment. The owners want to bring an Apple Store-like atmosphere to marijuana sales, providing a friendly, informational and professional environment to satisfy every customer’s need. They are currently fine-tuning the details, attaching TV monitors, hanging pictures, and positioning the Windows Tablets at the display cases so that customers can look up the details on each of their options. Duane Dunn, one of the co-owners was kind enough to talk to me, text, and email a few photos even though they still have a few tweaks to make to the interior.

The co-owners are not new to the business. Matt Frett has gained his experience at Ancient Medicine, a medical dispensary on Pacific Avenue in Tacoma. He is in the process of closing that store and plans to bring his educated and enlightened staff to Emerald Leaves. Talking with Duane was very eye-opening and reassuring. They have given this business a lot of thought and are bringing the 502 sales to a new level. They envision their typical customer as anyone from age 21 to 70’s and beyond who is looking for a positive experience. And, from the looks of the place, they expect their clientele to be well-heeled.

They plan to be well stocked when they open, offering 20+ strains of flowers, and a variety of edibles, oils, and waxes, along with a selection of pipes, glass, and other accoutrements. Lest other businesses worry about the type of customer this store will bring to the neighborhood, be advised: many 502 establishments find their clientele is rather upscale. The Liquor Control Board tightly regulates and limits the amount per transaction one person may buy: 1 oz. of usable marijuana, 16 oz. of marijuana infused products in solid form, 7 grams for extracts, and 72 oz. in liquid form.

There are 28 grams in an ounce, and at $10-15 (or more) per gram, retail marijuana is not inexpensive. The business is no longer cash-only, so customers will be able to use their debit cards for transactions. This is welcome news for an industry that can generate thousands of dollars each day.

Emerald Leaves is eager to open here on 6th Avenue. Duane Dunn said it is a great location: lots of traffic, surrounding bars, great exposure, large potential clientele. They are happy to be located in the former ChopStix site because it was a well-known establishment with positive name recognition. They do have great exposure; they are across the street from both Primo’s and Shakabrah, two of 6th Avenue’s better known businesses.

They are excited to be able to provide legal cannabis to the community, to be a beacon, provide a positive role model, and be viewed as the standard of quality for a 502 purchasing experience.

Epworth LeSourd Church To Close

By Dave Parker

On Sunday, February 1, the membership of Epworth LeSourd Church, 710 South Anderson St., voted to discontinue services as of June 30, 2015.

Reasons given include declining attendance, participation and insufficient income.

The church building will probably be put up for sale.

Katrina Haynes. Day of the Dead is in the very capable hands of Christina Wheeler. And breathe Russell, Robyn Liss has plans for a Spring Special. The Ave is coming out of the Shadows!

A darker shadow for the Ave is the closing of Epworth LeSourd Church, June 30th. However out of the shadows comes a dream that it will not close but rather transition to a Community Center for the District and surrounding community. An impossible dream? Not at all, Sancho! The Seahawks losing was impossible! I try to think of seven impossible things on the Ave before breakfast. Seeking help with Earth Day on or about April 22nd is not impossible, and I intend to use Epworth LeSourd to launch this event (as has been done in the past) and kick off the clean up on the Ave by working with Jason Lee, Grant, SABD, and Epworth LeSourd to do so, and create a buzz for “The David Parker Sixth Ave Community Center”! In the shadow of the Ave!

Happy Valentine’s Day
In Love and Service,
Mario Lorenz, SABD Manager

Looking for Space on the Ave!

Clip N Clean is looking for a new home. They have always been members of the district in the past and the owner has sold the building they are currently in at Cedar and 26th street and Lynette, the owner is looking to relocate on the Ave where she used to be up until a year ago or so. If anyone can help her it would be appreciated. If you have any ideas for her please call at 752 8325

Thanks
Mario
